

BRITISH ICONS: THE KING'S GUARDS AND BUSES

READ AND DISCOVER!

London is famous for its amazing icons like the King's Guards and the big red buses. The King's Guards have a very strict daily routine because every morning they march and change the guard at Buckingham Palace. Each guard wears a tall black hat and a red jacket, and he stands very still for a long time. A guard can stay very quiet, but he can't smile or talk to the tourists who visit the city. Another British icon is the Double Decker, which is a big red bus with two floors. This bus goes to many famous places and it can carry many people at the same time.

Comprehension Quiz ☒ ☐

1. The King's Guards smile and talk to the tourists _____
2. The guards wear a red jacket and a tall black hat _____
3. The Double Decker bus is a big blue bus with one floor _____
4. Every morning, the guards march and change the guard _____

The Monster Grammar Challenge: Add the "-s"

Look at Melody Moo's routine and write the sentences. Don't forget the third person -s!

(Sing) Melody Moo _____ loudly.

(Run) She _____ very fast across the grass.

(Eat) Melody _____ breakfast in the kitchen.

(Brush) She _____ her white teeth.

(Go) The guard _____ to Buckingham Palace.