

Pyjama Day at School

In many English-speaking countries, like the UK, schools have a special day called Pyjama Day. On this day, children do not wear their school uniforms. Instead, they go to school in their favorite pyjamas! They can also wear warm slippers and bring a teddy bear to class.

Why do they do this? Usually, it is for charity. Children bring one pound (£1) to school to help other people. It is also a very fun and relaxing day. Students spend time reading stories and doing quiet activities in their comfy clothes.

Sometimes, the teachers wear their pyjamas too! It is a great way to make the school feel like a big family.

Comprehension Activities

1. Choose the correct option (A, B or C):

What do children usually bring to school on Pyjama Day besides their clothes?

- a) A school bag and a hat.
- b) A teddy bear and slippers.
- c) A raincoat and boots.

2. Fill in the blanks with one or two words:

On Pyjama Day, students do not wear their school _____.

Children often give one pound to _____ to help people.

The day is very fun and _____ because the clothes are comfy.

Design Your Dream Pyjamas!

Did you know?

In the UK, a "Pyjama Day" is sometimes called "Mufti Day"!